PACT-ONE Solutions and Advantage Technologies Consulting, Inc. merging to form NTG Systems.

Troy, MI – 9:00 A.M. - June 19, 2007 -- Troy, MI based Advantage Technologies Consulting, Inc. and Henderson, NV based PACT-ONE Solutions, Inc. announced today that plans are underway for a merger, moving forward based on talks that began in April of 2006.

The merger of the two companies presents several strategic benefits. The existing territories, staff, and business models of the two firms will allow for a smooth transition into a more efficient and diversified business model. The combined company, NTG Systems, will be headquartered in Troy, MI.

Bryan Currier, President of Advantage Technologies said: “We look forward to the tremendous growth potential that this merger promises. The combined talents of the staff of these two firms will allow us to ensure that we continue our leadership in our industry, while presenting new opportunities that could never be realized individually”

Dan Edwards, President of PACT-ONE Solutions said: “This merger will provide an exciting opportunity for everyone involved. The growth potential, combined talented staff and strategic relationships provided by this merger will allow us to be the premier dental integration company and provide exciting opportunities for the future”

Advantage Technologies Consulting, Inc and Pact-One Solutions, Inc. are the nationally recognized leaders in dental technology integration services. Both firms possess certification by industry leading partners such as PracticeWorks and Dentrix. The combined coverage of the two companies extends to fourteen states in the continental U.S.
